Fahrerhaus

The image shows the interior of a red emergency vehicle, likely a fire truck or ambulance. The view is from the open side door, looking into the cabin. On the left, there are two black and grey seats with seatbelts. In the center, there is a control console with two computer monitors, a telephone, and various control buttons and switches. Below the console, there are several drawers and a rack holding multiple walkie-talkies. The floor is covered with a grey carpet. The vehicle's exterior is red, and the door is open, revealing a yellow step plate. The text "Arbeitsplätze" is written in blue at the bottom left of the image.
